THE CLODHOPPER AND THE BALD-HEADED MAN

A STIRRING TALE OF LOVE AND BUSINESS.

Written for the Record-Press by ROBERT C, HAYNES Author of "This Funny World," "Dark Days dna Bright," Etc.

What first set me thinking this way, Imogene, Was the falling in love with a girl," went on Green-"She's so noble and sweet—this bright-eyed little elf— I fell 'heels over head' and in spite of myself!

"It happened one day," went on hard-pounding Green, "I had kust left my room and my writing machine, And out in the street and was starting to go Just a few blocks away, down on Middleton Row.

"We two met and she gave me a smile and a bow, Then I went for my hat and some way or some how It made my heart flop-even faster I ween Than the swift going keys of the writing machine!"

"My! My! How romantic!" exclaimed Imogene, 'And how similar, too every way, Mr. Green, To a little adventure that happened with me. And the 'cutest' young man - a heart winnes was he!

"A ffne, bright day it was, and as still, Mr. Green, As the boss's deserted old writing machine! Well we met and I bowed-for I coulc but do that-And my! what a smile as he dived for his hat!"

Gibbons Eulogized By Leaders Of Nation-Taft Roose : ... And Sherman Among Speakers.

Baltimore, June 6.-James Cardinal Gibbons missed his afternoon walk today. For the first time in years, one of the very few in the twenty-five years that he has been the only prince of the Catholic Church in the United States, he missed that afternoon stroll over the streets of Baltimore where he listened to banker and beggar and took to heart the troubles of "his people."

Instead of the walk that had become a feature of that part of the city in which he lived, the Cardinal sat this afternoon on the temporary stage in the Fifth Regiment Armory and listened to the great men of the nation speak in eulogy of his life. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put legether, and until the bast few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a consiltutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Obio, is the only Constitutional cure on the morket. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

REAT ARMAMENTS ARE A CONTINUAL MENACE TO PEACE. INSTEAD OF PREVENTING WAR THEY ONLY HASTEN

First, they are a continual TEMPTATION TO GO TO WAR; second, they are WHOLLY UNNECESSARY. The world's annual commerce is twenty-eight billion dellars. All civilized nations are therefore interested in preventing any two nations from disturbing the world's peace.

A strong and sane public opinion, the real executive power of all governments, is AGAINST WAR. Armaments cannot be relied upon to maintain international peace because their COST IS RAP-IDLY BECOMING PROHIBITIVE.

When stated in dollars and cents we find that during the past ten tended and a large and appreciyears, including the enrrent fiscal year, this nation has expended in ative congregation had assempreparation for war the staggering total of $2,192,036,585.

The bonded debt at the close of the civil war was $2,674,815,056. Our expenditure for war preparations during the past ten years was ONLY $482,779,271 LESS THAN THE ENTIRE BONDED DEBT INCURRED BY OUR GOVERNMENT IN CARRYING ON THE FOUR YEARS' WAR TO PRESERVE THE UNION.

A paragraph is going the rounds about a girl dying from tight lacing. An editor commenting on the fact says: Those corsets should be done away with and the girls can't live without being squeezed we suppose men could be found who would sacrifice themselves. Wrong reinedy.
When the liver does not store up suffactent gastrle julces it becomes slurg, sh, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. Then comes the sallow complexion, the plumply face, the dult pain in the forchead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Symp Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. Jas. Keinedy, St. Louis, Mto.; Mrs. S. A. La Rue of Symp Pensin with a sample.

These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you will send your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is promptly cured with this remedy or money will be refunded. Having tried it you can then buy it in the regular way of your druggest not lifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and the latter is sufficient for an entire family.

This remedy is a wast improvement over cathartic tablets and salts, which only do good to the time being. Syrup Pepsin is permanent in its results, is pleasant to take and does not gripe. It is especially good for all those who cannet stand a violent purgative.

Dr. Caidwell personally will be pleased to give you say medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely.

TOBACCO TIDINGS. BY R. F. WHEELER.

The cost of the Association is managed like that of any other up to date concern, doing a business of more than a million dollars annually. It is well organized, and employs modern business methods in all its departments. The object if its business management is to get for the grower, the highest possible price for his tobacco, at the least possible expence to him.

No one can deny the success of this organization. No one can deny its efficiency. These things aries, so long as their tobacco are too apparent to every one. NOTED SCHOOL WORKERS TALK Unanimous Opinion of Those Present, That It is the Duty of the State to Cause the Country School to Encourage the Boy and Girl to Love; Country Life and to Give Them the Ability and Desire to Love It.

Berwise country life skillfully and intelligently directed assuredly offers more of health, of Independence, and even of luxury, than is attainable in any city; and because It is imperative that unless the problem of making the country school fit country life be solved, there is every indication that Kentucky, pre-eminently an agricultural state, will sconfind herself with a decreasing, instead of an increasing, population, a state wide rural school conference was behl in Louisville, Wednesday, March 29, under the auspices of the Louisville Commercial club.

It was a conference which may best he designated as "melchboily"—a conference which illsensed the vial and pressing problems of Kentucky's rural schools, as man to man, as neighbor to a dzhlor, each interested in finding the proper way to mak over the rural schools of Kentuck. so that schools which fulfill thir mission—schools which touch intel't gently, sympathetically, constantly and consciously every social and economic interest that concerns the community-may take the place of the pr sent intolerable rural sels of system of the state.

The conference was called to order at lu: 30 o'clock in the aulltorlum of the See Ibach H tel.

While this comulttee was at work, a milliant address was delivered by Prof. Eggleston, of Virginia, who spoke on the twin problems of the rural school - Consolidation and Transportation.

Prof. Eggleston sald in part:

We have no frouched rule, and should not have one, because children and population and community conditions do not group themselves according to fromclad roles. We should take the conditions as we find them, and net accordingly.

i suppose the objections are the same everywhere; that the people will not consent to give up their little schools; that the distances are too great for the chileron to reach the central schools with-out creat hardship; that the roads are 100 bad to hard the children; that the children will freeze to death, or at least be frest-litten, while waiting for the wagons or while being transported; and that the cost is too great.

All of thes objections have been met successfully, declares Prof. Eggleston.

During the tifth year of our policy we have over 200 wagons rouping in all s ctions of the State, and imder almost every possible condition. We have rout as long as eight miles, and as short a two and a half miles. We have wagen on good rouds and had rouds; on leve role's and mountain reads; on rock roads and sand roads; on macadam roads and red-cley roads. The tirst address on the report of the committee was made by Gover-nor Augustus E. Willson, following the reading of the report and the resolutions. Governor Willson made a rousing speech, prefacing his talk by saying that "for thirty years, in season and out of season, I have been traveling up and down this great state preaching the doctrine of geod roads and good schools. The two are bound to come together."

He urged co-operation, saying that here is no limit to the good that can be accumplished by 2,200,600 people working together for the advancement of the state.

"Think of the kind of schools wo have in Kentucky. They are a dlsgrace to the decent children that have to attend them and a disgrace to the state. CHAPTER XVI. CAVANAGH FOLLOWS HIS CHIEF. T breakfast next morning Cavanagh sald: "I must ride back and take some bread to the dog. I can't go away and leave him there without saying helio."

"Let me do that," suggested Wetherford. "I'm afraid to go down to the Fork. I reckon I'd better go back and tend the sheep till Gregg sends some one up to take my place."

"That might be too late to see Lize. Lee's voice showed great anxiety. Shmay be on her deathhed. No; you'd better go down with me today," he arged. And at last the old man con-

Putting some bread in his pockets, Ross rode off up the trall to see how the dog and his tlock were faring. Ho had not gone far when he heard the tinkle of the bells and the murimir of the lambs, and a few moments later the collie came toward him with the air of a boy who, having assumed to dlsregard the orders of his master, expeets a scolding. He plainly said: T've brought my sheep to you because I was lonesome. Please forgive me."

Cavanagh called to him cheerly and tossed him a piece of bread, which he caught in his teeth, but did not swallow. On the contrary, he held it while leaping for joy of the praise he heard in his new found master's voice.

Turning the tlock upward toward the higher peaks, the ranger commanded redeemed his promise, rede back to the caldn, where he found Wetherford saddled and ready for his momentous trh. to the valley. He had shaved awa, hls gray beard, and had Ross been un-· prepared for these changes he would have been puzzled to account for this decidedly utilitary tigure sitting statuesquely on his pony before the door.

That heavy set woman down there is not Lize. My Lize is slim and straight. This woman whom you know has stolen her name and face, that's I can't explain exactly what t feel, but Lee Virginia means more to me now than Lize."

"I think I understand you," said Cuvanagh, with sympathy in his voice. The nearer Wetherford came to the actual meeting with his wife the more of your work for that poor shepherd he declared. "I'll be like n ghost to her. What's the use of it? She'll only be worried by my story. I reckon I'd better keep dark to everybody. Let me go back. I'm plum scared cold,"

While still he argued two men on horseback rounded a sharp turn lu the trall and came face to face with the runger. Wetherford's face went suddenly gray. "There's the deputy!"

"Keep quiet. I'll do the talking." commanded Cavanagh, who was histant in his determination to shield the man. "Good morning, gentlemen," he called cheerly. "You're abroad early!" The man in front was the deputy Big Eagle Easily Whipped Soldier.

Lynn, Mass., June 10. - Corporal Thomas Campbell, formerly of New York, of the One Hundred and Ffty-seventh company of U.S. Coast artillery, stationed at the Signal Station in this town, is suffering from injuries received in fighting an American bald-headed eagle here late Friday night. He was summoned into court today, cha ged ! with violating the game laws of Massachusetts and fined $20.

Campbell found the bird perched in a tree. He got a shot gun and fired. The bullet only stunned the bird, which then began to fight. Thomas Eagan, who was with Campbell, had his overalls torn from his body while attempting to lasso the bird. It was finally overpowered. The bird is alive and under surgical treatment at the home of GameWarden Thomas Burney. It was six feet ten inches from tip to tip of its wings.

The preamble to the Constitution of the U. S. says "we the people of the U. Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is S. do ordain and establish this constitution."

Are women people?

The fifteenth amendment to the constitution declares "That the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged on account of race, color and so-forth.

Who are citizens?

We answer in the words of the constitution, "All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of Surely argument is not needed to show that the tiniest infant hand, inferior? or the oldest woman are people and also citizens.

Let us see what is meant by joyed a pleasant visit at the home of suffrage. Suffrage is the Mr. and Mrs. Dave Clark the first right of a person to protect himself, his property and his posterity by voting for the measures he thinks best, yet this right is denied women. Also suffrage is a single duty imposed by the entire mass of citizens upon some one of their number because they are supposed to be especially qualified

The United States has justly been considered the birth place of the movement of woman's rights. During the years of the struggle of the Revolution, the women by proving themselves the equals of men as far as capacity for intelligent action and endurance under suffering were concerned won for themselves a position of which they have been able to reap full advantages; for ever since then the history of the woman question has been

Hearts grown weary with heavier woe,

Drop into darkness, go comfort them go-

Bury thy sorrow, let others be blest. Give them the sunshine; tell Jesus the rest. Trust Him then through cloud and sunshine All tny cares upon him cast: Till the storm of life is over,

And the trusting days are past.
